

Hatem SEDGHIANI

Hatem SEDGHIANI is Chief Engineer of Public Service, he is in INS of Tunisia (Statistics Tunisia) since January 2002 and it was incorporated into the development team. He was successively Head of the "development of economic statistics applications" service and as deputy director of "developing statistical applications" and finally director of "IT projects" since August 2014.

Mr SEDGHIANI contributed to various works of development of the information system of the INS, the latest innovative project is Data collection using tablets. He is also in charge of the project documentation, archiving and access to Micro data.